Description

In January 2024, I started building the website. For robust site structure and fast loading speed, I used a custom theme to build the site from. I added some plug-ins and tools that will enable the site to run fast and, at the same time, handle heavy scripts for the ads. Halfway through the month, I've finished crafting the site, which is now ready for some blogs. I published some and quickly established some foundations that will automate most of the SEO tasks needed for the blogs.
